

Catering St. Louis

Yash Dalal

Lots of information. Will need to make decisions on how much really needs to be shown. Eg: client list doesn't need to show all 100, or could find a better way to represent that, don't need to show all 50 testimonials, could experiment with important quotes, more recent feedback

Lots of repetition which needs to be removed

Pages currently very tall. Aim to minimize how much a user needs to scroll to access information

Divide information between top navigation bar (action events such as 'contact us' could potentially be visible on the home page) and bottom footer (less important or less frequent use)